ABOUT LITERACY GRANTS

As part of Phi Kappa Phi's mission "to engage the community of scholars in service to others," grants of up to $2,500 are available to champion literacy initiatives.

HOW TO APPLY

Go to PhiKappaPhi.org/Literacy to access an online application and review submission instructions.

SELECTION CRITERIA

The definition of literacy should be considered broadly.

Proposals may be for new projects or for support of existing projects. Project directors must reapply each year to receive funding, and they must be active Society members.

Target groups may include preschool children to adults.

Budget can be used only for supplies and materials, publicity, postage, etc. No salaries or stipends included.

ELIGIBILITY

Open to campus chapters and active individual members for projects relating to literacy.

Members should feel free to consider literacy either as a basic skill to be taught to those in need or as a set of expanded skills including math, computers, and more.

Chapters or individual members may consider either starting a literacy project on campus or in the community or contributing in some way to an existing literacy project. Duration of the project may be either short-term, one-time activity, or a longer ongoing series of activities. Please refer to the Literacy Grant application for suggestions on the range of possibilities that may be considered.

DEADLINE

Submit your completed application online no later than April 1, 2018, at 11:59 p.m. CT. Recipients will be announced by June 1, 2018.

Founded in 1897 at the University of Maine and headquartered in Baton Rouge, La., Phi Kappa Phi is the nation's oldest and most selective all-discipline honor society. Phi Kappa Phi inducts annually more than 30,000 students, faculty, professional staff, and alumni. The Society has chapters on more than 300 select college and university campuses in North America and the Philippines. Since Phi Kappa Phi's founding, more than 1 million members have been initiated into its ranks.
