

MY STELLAR ACHIEVEMENT: four space flights

MY "CLOSE ENCOUNTER": winter survival training for NASA in Siberia

MY EARTHBOUND PASSION: encouraging young people to pursue their dreams

MY HONOR SOCIETY: Phi Kappa Phi

GREAT MINDS THINK ALIKE.

WENDY LAWRENCE logged more than 1,200 hours in space as a NASA astronaut before retiring in 2006. She visited the Russian Space Station Mir and was a mission specialist on the STS-114 "Return to Flight" voyage in 2005. Prior to her 14 years at NASA, she earned multiple commendations as a Navy captain and helicopter pilot. Lawrence was initiated into Phi Kappa Phi at the United States Naval Academy in 1980.

Founded in 1897, PHI KAPPA PHI is the oldest and most selective honor society for all academic disciplines. Its more than 100,000 active members include great minds in science and medicine, government and law and the military, education and business, along with sports, literature and the arts and just about every other field imaginable.

Photo by NASA

LEARN ABOUT MORE GREAT MINDS AT PHIKAPPAPHI.ORG/GREATMINDS.