

BRADLEY NEWCOMER

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR AND CEO OF
THE HONOR SOCIETY OF PHI KAPPA PHI

ABOUT BRADLEY

Bradley Newcomer assumed stewardship of The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi in January 2022 as its 12th executive director. He was initiated into the Society at the University of Alabama at Birmingham in 2012.

Newcomer previously served at James Madison University where he directed the process of establishing the Honors College. Under his leadership, the College's enrollment grew almost 60 percent and was recognized by the Fulbright Program as a Top Producer of Fulbright U.S. Students for consecutive years.

As executive director and CEO, Newcomer works with the Society's board of directors to develop a strategic plan for Phi Kappa Phi that supports its mission to "cultivate a community that celebrates and advances the love of learning." He also oversees the day-to-day operations of the Phi Kappa Phi national office and participates in field activities such as campus visits and chapter installations.

Newcomer earned a bachelor of science in physics from Juniata College, a master of physics and Ph.D. in biomedical sciences from Wright State University and a master of business administration from UAB.
